SHOT club members and all exhibitors will follow State and Local COVID-19 guidelines.

Current Virginia Department of Health Guidelines for Outdoor Recreational Sports:

Outdoors: Playing outdoor sports is generally safer than indoors. Unvaccinated athletes, coaches, officials, and spectators should strongly consider wearing masks, especially if close contact is likely to occur. Fully vaccinated people might also consider wearing a mask in crowded outdoor spaces if they or someone in their household is immunocompromised.

Anyone with symptoms of COVID-19 should remain at home and seek testing. Participants with a known exposure to someone with COVID-19 should follow VDH's quarantine guidelines before returning to practices and competitions.

People involved in recreational sports should consider their household's level of risk and interaction with other at-risk populations when determining whether to participate in recreational sports. Factors that place people (including household members) at higher risk of adverse outcomes from COVID-19 include older age, not being vaccinated, and certain medical conditions.
